AZ CORP COMMISSION
DOCUMENT CONTROL

Arizona Corporation Commissioners
Mike Gleason
1200 W. Washington St.
Phoenix, AZ 85007

Dear Commissioner;

I trust that you have been informed that I have presented a positive law solution to Docket No. E-01750A-04-0929. The issues in this case are clear. The problem lies with some of the personnel that you employ and their practice and promotion of black law (laymen's interpretation, practicing bad law). A few of the black law issues in this case are; some Arizona Bar Association members are submitting written and unwritten responses that were not included in procedural orders. Your employees are imposing time limits on both the respondents and the complainants, yet there seems to be no time limits by which your employees are to act within and no effort has been made by the employees of the Arizona Corporation Commission to resolve this simple conflict. There are ample laws and a large amount of evidence that supports my right to receive electricity from this utility company. From the outside looking in, it looks like there is some corruption surrounding this decision. I pray you are not part of it.

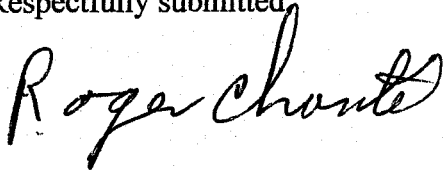

I have informed the Arizona Bar Association about some of its members practicing black law. They claimed they do not have jurisdiction over members that practice black law. This means that you, as Commissioners, are accountable and responsible for your employees that practice black law.

As time permits, I will be addressing this issue with State Law makers. Since black law affects so many people, it will become the responsibility of the law makers to create new laws on jurisdictions and strict punishments on bar members that practice black law.

Since we are in a fast changing time period, as we proceed in this area, we will see the general public's interest in black law grow to heights that will cause great changes in the legal industry. Your decisions regarding the support of positive law will be part of our history.

May your decision give you peace with God.

Respectfully submitted,
